That's Chemistry

Young Rival

Well i thought i had it all in my sight i swerved to the left i thought i was right i knew it was over from the very start it came in the light and left in the darkyeah, turn on the lights, just let it be that chemistry, that chemistry
now below the words i'll understand well i understand, i understandyou held your own in a nowhere town you rose to the top and now you're looking down the sentimental value of an absent friend you showed up alone, and left just the same yeah, turn on the lights, just let it be
that chemistry, that chemistry
now below the words i'll understand well i understand, you understandHeadlight, silhouette HAM radio and cigarette Moonlight, December
I remember, remember
All the same, I'm MIA
I turn to the wall, to see it again
And when I turned around, I thought I knew the way I can't explain, it's a waiting gameYeah, I can't get no symmetry
From that chemistry, that chemistry
Not below the words I'll understand Well I understand, I understand Turn on the lights, just let it be That energy, that energy
Not below the words I'll understand
Well I understand, you'll understand, yeah
