

These Words You Want to Hear

Asaf Avidan

don't you think it's time you get on over that?
don't you think you had enough? i mean, i know you had it rough but that pansy-fancy way of looking grim all through the day and night?
is something wrong my dear?
have i said it way to clear? then let me whisper in your ear all these words i know are wrong but for the sake of writing song here is what i guess you want to hear somewhere up there
the sky is blue for you somewhere out there
there's something new to do somebody loves you
somebody loves you
tell me do you think you have some exclusivity on every shadow of regret that's lurking in proximity to what you think your life should be?
but if you close your eyes you'll see that there is nothing for you here still the only words you hear are somewhere up there
somewhere out there
there is something new to do
somebody loves you
now tell me how about we maybe switch things for a change? i will lie down in denial and you can have this page its condescending and its sad you're not the only one that's had a life like this, i'm sorry dear but it's what everybody wants to hear
