

24 Windowed House

SOAK

I am afraid of sleep.
From depth of heavy heart to my heavy feet.
The voice of smoke from a warm throat.
And theres a 24 Windowed House and it's not for me.
Shes fast asleep.
Unaware of what's to happen underneath her feet.
I'm waiting for the morning light.
To shine through her transparent eyes.
I know, I just dont know her
When she discovers what he did with her
She will walk from the throne destroying a home
And come running back to me
I'm not sure if I can stay
If my heart has found a place to lie down
She's so far away
Still praying she brings herself back to stay I'll bring her heaven even if I'm stuck in hell
It's a story I cannot bear to tell
You gotta leave things, it seems will be
Even if it's killing me From depth of heart to my heavy feet
A denied transparent deed
Slipped beneath what you've achieved
