

Find a Way

Laura Marie

I'll find a way to be nice when I want to be unkind
I'll find a way to be quiet when I want to speak my mind
I'll find a way to be here even though you don't need me
I know I cannot be right all the time. It's not possible
And, time will not always move
Time will not always move
Time will not always move so slowly
When I find a way to be loved in a way that you'll know you're loved
And I can push you clear of my solid grip on fear
And I know my mind so my heart won't be far behind
And you'll know where I am even though you don't understand
How time will not always move
Time will not always move
Time will not always move so slowly
