Let Go

Seapony

don't know who you are You're like a ghost or a mirage
You don't say what you mean
You're like a blur that remains unseenAll of your dreams are like this You're like a satellite in orbit
You go around and around
And come apart when you fall down
So you let it all go
You found yourself in a daze
You're not the first one to feel this way
I'm looking down at the stars
I can't believe that it went so far
So you let it all go
