

Reaching Out

Matthew Sweet

You've counted every star that you could imagine
Broken when everyone took you for a fool
It gave you a reason
To find something strong enough to feel You're reaching out, reaching out
You're reaching out, reaching out
You're reaching out Beaten by a child, you don't even know when
But now you can never be free from what was done
Can't even hate them
You'll find something big enough to see You're reaching out, reaching out
You're reaching out, reaching out
You're reaching out And if I can't know you
All my dreams are through
Every waking hour is filled with lead
I'm dead I've counted every star that you could imagine
Broken when everyone took me for a fool
It gave me a reason
To find something strong enough to feel You're reaching out, reaching out
You're reaching out, reaching out
You're reaching out And if I can't know you
All my dreams are through
Every waking hour is filled with lead
I'm dead, I'm dead
