

Heavy

DramaGods

You start to feel the static
You feel the pressure pumping
With courage in your pocket
No time for indecision
We're on a heavy missionWith confidence you fire
Take out specific targets
With technical precision
You're on a heavy missionReady or not, get set goIt's oh so beautiful
The poetry of rage
And the violence in the air
Smells so wonderful
Sweet malaiseYou carry all the burden
The pain is penetrating
Block out the devastation
Forget the grief and sorrow
You know there's no tomorrowA man in this condition
A man is this position
Must now become a killer
You know it's now or never
A desperation effort
Forget to stop and listen
We're on a heavy missionAnd as the lights begin to dim
I find myself at home
I sit here on my thrown
I think I'll light myself a boneAnd as I sit here in the dark
I know I'm not alone
I found my self a girl
I found here halfway round the worldAs heavy as she is She's beautiful to hold
I squeeze her tightly in my hand
She'll send me back where I belong
