

...And All the Other Colors

10 Years

Minutes melt into miles
Hours erode the days away
These years of infinity
Recycle and repeat this
Rebirth Don't shoot the messenger
You're the killer at your door Magnify
The moments we have lived
Pacify
The past lives we've laid to rest And all the other colors
Are leaving this body and mind
Behind
Become another level
Leading into the divine
Divine This crippled reality of tangible fantasies
Can't be, can't be, can't be
Our walls breathe, to a heartbeat
Are you a messenger, or the killer at my door? And all the other colors
Are leaving this body and mind
Behind
Become another level
Leading into the divine
Divine It's no good, no good, no
It's no good, no good, no good, no Are you looking?
Yes, what should I see?
I've never seen such infinite beauty in my life
I wish I could talk in Technicolor
I feel sorry for you, if you can't see it than you'll just never know. And all the other colors
Are leaving this body and mind
Behind
Become another level
Leading into the divine
Divine Become one with the energy And all the other colors
Are leaving this body and mind
Behind
