

Spin the Bottle

Cover Your Tracks

I feel it peering out my eyes
Like there's another man inside
Oh god, I hope this isn't
The demon living in me But everyday it gets so hard that I can't hear
I tried to let you know
Instead I let you go A broken bottle spinning round and round again
I made you take the blame
But we both know it's me
A broken bottle spinning round and round again No, I think I'm losing all control
Cause now I know I'm not alone
Oh god, what is this in me
A curse or just me
I tried to let you know
Instead I let you go A broken bottle spinning round and round again
I made you take the blame
But we both know it's me
A broken bottle spinning round and round again I will not sink into your hands
I will not let you win
I am the failure
But you let me win
I tried to let you know
Instead I let you go A broken bottle spinning round and round again
I made you take the blame
But we both know it's me
A broken bottle spinning round and round again
