She Is My Lady

Dan Hill

In a world so full of pain
She can push the darkness away
She is the dream I hold onto
She is sleeping now, as I write this song
Pulls the pillow closer when I am goneShe is my lady and I am her man
Through the hard times we still understand
Nothing can break the bond that we have
She is my lady and I am her manLovers come and lovers pass
Feelings always changing so fast
So hard to know just what matters
Looking back I see, I was so alone
She gave me more love than I've ever knownShe is my lady and I am her man
Through the hard times we still understand
Nothing can break the bond that we have
She is my lady and I am her manDeep into the night when all hope is gone
She gives me the faith I need to carry onShe is my lady and I am her man
Through the hard times we still understand
Nothing can break the bond that we have
She is my lady and I, I, IShe is my lady and I am her man
Through the hard times we still understand
Nothing can break the bond we have
She is my lady and I am her man
