

Undone

Jamie Lynn Hart

You think that I prefer my alone time
'Cause you just don't see why
I'm not all up on and over you.
Can't decide if you like the challenge
To you think I'm a mystery, 'cause I just keep saying sorry
I can lie, I just don't feel this 'Cause I got a plan here and I can
And I can't pretend you really know.Cause I've waited this long to come undone
Saving all my love for someone who can break these walls
Give it all they got, hit me like a cannon ball.They ask me, wonder and speculate when is my big day when is my happy ever after
The storm has blown over, maybe she'll find someone
Maybe she'll love another
Don't look like that, like you feel bad for me, 'cause I got a plan here
And I know what makes me happy, oh'Cause I've waited this long to come undone
Saving all my love for someone who can break these walls
Give it all they got, hit me like a cannon ballAnd I know, I know when I go that it will come
So don't go
And tell me what it is I want, I don'tCause I've waited this long to come undone
Saving all my love for someone who can break these walls
Give it all they got, hit me like a
Hit me like a...
Hit me like a cannonball.
