To Lose Someone

Taken By Trees

I lost you in the crowd in an unfamiliar town
they found you back in the river where hardly no one goesI had so much to tell you but it never came to words I wish I could have told you that no one can take your placeI lost you in the crowd in an unfamiliar town
where hardly no one goesI had so much to tell you
but it never came to words I wish I would have told you that no one can take your place
