Believe In No One

embrace today

look into the face of danger and your integrity will lead you through.
there is nothign that i can do.
what the fuck are you running from?
so face your fears to fight this world alone.
because everyday i fight and fight. i fucking fight.
you owe it to yourself.
believe in noone and fight this world alone and I well Im the one to live with my mistakes.
to fight this world. so fuck this world.
I owe it to myself to be true.
you say that the image changed but it all remains the same.
well i've never changed
and all this time i stayed the same and those words.
they never changed. they stayed the same.
