

Slip To The Void

Alter Bridge

Slip to the void, to the dark, to the fall
Crawl to the life you shouldn't know
You should never come this way
To test the hands of fate, you don't belong here
Peel back the skin, close your eyes
Hell is born to the abyss but be warned
You fear what you'll become
My God, what have you done? You don't belong here
But it's all in the way
You touch and you obey, denial
But it's all in the way
You touch and you obey, denial
Sever the ties, trip the wire, dig your hole
Doubt is alive and you know
You were once led to believe
You were young and so naive but now no longer
But it's all in the way
You turned your back today
Left to face this alone
Left to die with nothing you can hold
Left to break in the cold
In the void that you made
The moment you let love go
Try to win back your days
You let them all escape your heart
And now that you've come so far
Why did you have to fall so hard?
Look at what you've done
What have you become?
In the void that you made
The moment you let love go
You let love go
You let love go
