Recipe for Hate

Bad Religion

Can't you feel it, can't you see it? The promise of prosperity It's overwhelming you and me It afflicts us like a diseaseUbiquitous compelling too We cling to you like crazy glue And inject such a potent seed It's best for all humanityThe spread of culture The sword of progress The vector of suffrage a warm and Septic breezeThe pomp and elation The duty and vocation The blood of the hybrid It's just a recipeRe-living our ancestry The frightful lack of harmony Our fore-fathers who led the way Their victims are still here todayNow it's time to erase the story Of our bogus fate Our history as it's portrayed It's just a recipe for hate, a recipe for hate The spread of culture The sword of progress The vector of suffrage a warm and Septic breezeThe pomp and elation The duty and vocation The blood of the hybrid It's just a recipeHate
