

Hold On

Roosevelt

You're falling against the world again
You know that it all might take the blame for you.

It's calling the night and need again
You know that it all might take the blame for you
Hold on your lovin' wherever

You make it work
Hold on your lovin' wherever
You make it work

You're falling against the rules again
You know that it all might take the blame for you.

It's calling the night and need again
You know that it all might take the blame for you.
Hold on your lovin' wherever

Make it work
Hold on your lovin' wherever
You'll make it work

Hold on your lovin' wherever, you make it work
