Still Figuring Out

Elliot Minor

Still figuring out, how to stay like this forever,
Still figuring out, today, today, yeah...
Just cruising around, and knowing that we will never go our seperate ways.It's how it's meant to be, released from misery,
A stright mind is all I need, I can walk on my own feet,
We're falling out of time, let memories unwind,
The state that we've been in, it's beating up your mind.Let's play this song for everyon until they're gone,
Let's play this song all night long.Still figuring out, how to stay like this forever,
Still figuring out, today, today, yeah...
Just cruising around, and knowing that we will never go our seperate ways.Days and nights they feel so good, just like the way they should,
Those crazy nights we left behind were so misunderstood,
A missing photograph, never thinking of the past,
But there's a light to see and there's only one path.Let's play this song for everyone until they're gone,
Let's play this song all night long.Still figuring out, how to stay like this forever,
Still figuring out, today, today, yeah...
Just cruising around, and knowing that we will never go our seperate ways.Still figuring out, how to stay like this forever,
Still figuring out, today, today, yeah...
Just cruising around, and knowing that we will never go our seperate ways.We will go our seperate ways...
We will go our seperate ways...
We will go our seperate ways...
We will go our seperate ways...Still figuring out, how to stay like this forever,
Still figuring out, today, today, yeah...
Just cruising around, and knowing that we will never go our seperate ways.Still figuring out, how to stay like this forever,
Still figuring out, today, today, yeah...
Just cruising around, and knowing that we will never go our seperate, go our seperate, go our seperate ways.
