When the passion doesn't really seem to last too long i swear i almost forgot just how to write these songs and can you tell me how in the hell i'm supposed to pay the bills when all i got is half demos and the voice memos on my cell phones some way somehow i know its gonna work work itself out (yeah yeah)

work itself out baby work itself out (imma say, cant do much about yesterday don't you worry yourself away) there's a feeling that i feel i really cant ignore i often ask myself what am i doing this for oh lord spare me a little more cause this ain't easy no ain't played no souls you know how that goes the girls are hot but the vibe is cold is this how it is when you don't sell your soul they probably never play me on the radio id be surprised if they ever pay me but i just stick with the same * they gave me don't let if faze me i'm more concerned about my mental situations infuriating cause even though these beats bangin i cant think straight its like everyday i'm getting all the time is wastin i guess i'm an old soul cause i don't ride these new waves i got a new coat its a new day i got new goals but i'm stuck in my old ways haven't listened to coldplay in a while yea i'm in my own lane guess i had to change my style somehow i know its gonna work work itself out (yeah yeah) work itself out baby
