Let's Go Away

Bernard Butler

There's a whisper in the breeze
And it drifts between you and me
It radiates mortalityBefore we've nothing left to spare
You and me should just go somewhere
A secret hid and a secret sharedBut if these words they go too deep, consider all possibilities
There's just one way to fall down
But you won't know till you've hit the groundAnd it's a wonder that you breathe
When all around you has ceased to be and it hurts to see you down
Yeah, it hurts to see you down, let's go away, let's go awayAnd I so appreciate
That my life ain't gone to waste
It's down to you my friend of fate'Cause I've a will to set you free
Though I don't know what that really means
I just hope it's not out of reachBut if these words they go too deep, consider all possibilities
There's just one way to fall down
But you won't know till you've hit the groundAnd it's a wonder that you breathe
When all around you has ceased to be and it hurts to see you down
Yeah, it hurts to see you down, let's go away
Ah, let's go awayNever stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running, never stop us running
(Let's go away, yeah)
Never stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running away
(Let's go away)Never stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running, never stop us running
(Let's go away)
Never stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running away
(Oh)Never stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running awayNever stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running awayNever stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running, never stop us running
Never stop us running away
