Cold Game

Maverick Sabre

seems like everybodys carrying now money is the motivation stone cold no reflection what am i supposed to be but this on the bus oh dark facing never smile always hide emotion cause even my bestfriends could be the next men that change darlin'
darlin' its a cold game and it whats were living in
got away so i could change
i dont want to live this way but sometimes its like theres no other way my knuckles bleeding once again but i had to hold my place no respect no intention i didnt mean to cause you pain it all happened to suddenly a paranoia saved my back again told you id be alright though here to stand another day darlin'

i dont want to live this way
face in the stars baby they all seem so bright tonight please dont be angry, but it went to far this time i thought he was punching lightly, but the blood told different thing cause everythings going up my head, my lungs
