

Later

Side A & Freestyle

How could you come with me
When you knew all along that you had to goHow could you you watch me sleep
So close to you
Pretending not to knowHow could you memorize my name
And forget who i amHow could you think
You're still the same
Believing i can
It's too late to stop pretending
It's too late for a new beginning
Later than the sunset
Later that the rain
Later than ever to love you againHow could you ask for more
With an innocent smile
Trusting me to stayHow could you close the door
And leave me here
Supposing I'm okHow could you break down
My disguise
And uncover my fearsHow could you look into my eyes
Ignoring my tears
It's too late to start pretending
It's too late for a new beginning
Later that the sunset
Later than the rain
Later than ever to love you again
[x2]Its too late
