

Devoted Friends

Wang Chung

If you have to leave after all that we've
Been through, been through, been through
I can't be a friend if your heart has the end
In view, in view, in view Because lovers never can be Just devoted friends How can we meet on a day in the week
And be true, be true, be true
And how can I speak and pretend that I'm happy
For you, for you, for you Because lovers never can be Just devoted friends
