Say You

Imaginary Cities

I went out into the darkness
Darkness turned to light
And when I found my freedom
He said that freedom wasn't mineI cross the mighty ocean
To watch you from afar
I climb the highest mountain
To see just where you areSay you, say you, say you, why
Say you, say you, say you, whyWhen we get off to heaven
And we fall upon our knees
With every kind of trouble
It ain't easy to be pleasedWe look for comfort in our bedroom
But when we close our eyes
The shadows crawl all over
And blacken up the skyI say, I say, I say, I'm fine
I say, I say, I say, I'm fineListen what I'm saying
I'm not telling no lie
Count your blessings every day
No telling how much timeI went out into the darkness
Darkness turned to light
And when I found my freedom
He said that freedom wasn't mineI cross the mighty ocean
To watch you from afar
I climb the highest mountain
To see just where you areSay you, say you, say you, why
Say you, say you, why
Say you, why
