36 Days

Hawk Nelson

Gone away far from home, the weekend's over
Let's pack up and start again
Twenty days on the road, just left port dover
With sixteen days to goI just called my mom to tell her that I miss her
I just wrote my girl, man I can't remember
The last time I kissed her
Soon I'll be at home with all my friends
After thirty-six days on the roadLights go down, the noise has faded
We'll leave this town anticipated
Soon we'll be back on the road againAll is lost, but not forgotten
One by one the fights we've fought
And soon we'll be back on the road again
For thirty-six daysWe turn around, face the crowd
We're starting over, this time north of L..A
Once again here we are, it's a new beginning
I'd live this life any dayI feel so alive, though a part of me is gone
And this life I lead, is the life that I've dreamed of
Since I was the age of twelve
And while I'll sing with all that is within me
After thirty-six days on the roadLights do down the noise has faded
We'll leave this town anticipated
Soon we'll be back on the road againAll is lost, but not forgotten
One by one the fights we've fought
And soon we'll be back on the road again
And soon we'll be back on the road again
Soon we'll be back on the road again for thirty-six days
