

All You Ever Wanted

Absence of Concern

it doesnt quite seem right why your not here tonight time has made you obsolete infected since we were born with words we can not ignore how can you call your life complete

it runs circles in my mind over and over again
never losing steam
you sold out way too young, too easily

its all you ever wanted ive forgiven you
so forgive me for ever wanting home for you

when you fall into the lies your decision to compromise made me question everything

you cleared a path with so much strength you were too weak to make the journey

its all ive ever wanted
and im on the last hour

you keep falling
further behind

over looking confusion youll never see what ill see turned ever corner

this is whats done youll never be what ill be

and you keep falling
