

Child

Mark Owen

Sleep peacefully now my child, I hope that you go away
To a place where your dreams can play
Wipe all the tears from your eyes
There is a sky of blue, this is your time of truth
Like a bird high on the wind, may you fly away
Like a snowfall in the spring, may your cares melt away
Child, innocent child, our hope lies inside
Your starry eyes, my innocent child
Here, now that you are free
You have no need to fear, so go out and find your smile
Like a candle in the stream, may you float away
Like a feather on the breeze, may you blow away
Like a candle, like a snowfall
Like a feather, like a bird fly away
Like a candle, like a snowfall
Like a feather, like a bird fly away
Like a candle, like a snowfall
Like a feather, like a bird fly away
Sleep peacefully now my child, I hope that you go away
To a place where your dreams can play
