Broken Hearted Soul

Ra

[Verse One]
I can't believe I've fallen down to my knees
You've got me begging me, "Please, there has to be another way."
My broken chest, it hurts, it won't let me breathe
I'm staring down at my wrists, you know why I have to insist that you talk to me
Why won't you talk to me?When did I want to be lonely
When did I want to be cold
I can't believe that it's over
The beating of my broken-hearted soulI can't believe that I am down in this hole
Always paying the toll for having found my way to you
It doesn't matter that I pushed you away when you wanted to stay.
I have to find away to make you talk to me
Why won't you talk to meWhen did I want to be lonely
When did I want to be cold
I can't believe that it's over
The beating of my broken-hearted soulWhen did I want to be lonely
When did I want to be cold
I can't believe that it's over
This feeling in my broken-hearted soulPlease don't go
I can't live without you
I think I love you
You're everything to me
Can't you seeDon't you dare walk away, this cannot be the end
You're my savior, my lover, my muse, my best friend
I won't smile again, I won't ever be loved
You can't do this to me
If you can hear what I'm saying, please talk to me
You never talk to meWhen did I want to be lonely
When did I want to be cold
I can't believe that it's over
The beating of my broken-hearted soulWhen did I want to be lonely
When did I want to be cold
I can't believe that it's over
This feeling in my broken-hearted soul
