Another Love Song

Queens Of The Stone Age

You're so impossible, scream and moan it chills my soul
Don't wanna hear you got left behind
All those times you stayed up and cried it's no lie
You did it to yourself like chewed up gum under my shelf ou must have know all along It's just another love song another

Don't look surprised you must have know all alongIt's just another love song, another love songIt's never easy it's not hard when you've lost your mind

With you it's sleazy don't tell me your worries

I'm sick, I'll leave you blind

Now the time has come to leave this love that's left you dry

No need to work this out now 'cause you know there's no reason whyIt's just another love song, another love song

Another love song, it's just another love songNever told you it would last forever
You can't hold this boy for long, dig it
By the time you read my letter
Baby, I'll be goneYou're just another love song, another love song
Another love song, you're just another love song
You're just another love song, another love song
