

Blue

The Birthday Massacre

Plastic blue invitations in my room I've been waiting here for you
Reservations made for two sunlight fading
Black tongues speak faster than the car can crash
You supply the rumors and I'll provide the wrath
Romance is breaking every heart in two
Casting shadows in the pale shade of blue

Plastic blue conversations in my room saving every tear for you
Trusting every word untrue twilight fading
Fate changes faster than the death of light
You provide the envy and I'll provide the spite
Reflections cutting every face in two
Casting shadows in the pale shade of blue
