

Big Brother (feat. The Heathers)

Mushroomhead

Open up your mind and let some thought inside
Open up your mind as they all survey 4 out of 5
And they all survey 4 out of 5 and they all survey
Open up your mind and let some thought inside
Open up your mind as they all survey
And in this time of free thought it'd be a shame to let it rot
Open up your mind as they all survey When you're all alone you'll never wanna know
Open up your mind as they all survey 4 out of 5 and they all survey
You gotta let some thought inside as they all survey Caught between the parallels of life and death
And compromises fill the hours with new vices voices
Screaming time is numb single file come and follow
Choosing futures from brochures changing channels
No opinion losing track which way is up Use your head for what it's there for Though not one in the same receptive minds co-operate
Do not dissect the human race make one united higher plain
And in this time of free thought it'd be a shame to let it rot
Open up your mind and let some thought inside use your head, for what it's there for
