Ghost (Prod by Kyle Justice) (DatPiff Exclusive)

Kid Ink

I think I'm about to go ghost, ain't nobody see me,
I'm riding round in my locks, leave me
You can hear the bass beating like
Coming through the speakers likeI think I'm about to go ghost, Casper on these niggers, Really ain't one to boss but I'm doing better than most.
In the situation I'm in most of y'all would fumble
But I carry on on my own, I'm in the couple alone.
Doing by a hundred and ten, trying to run away from my problems
One day away from snapping, can't see no other option,
And ain't nothing new to my lifestyle, can't nobody catch me right now,Now all of a sudden I gotta make a decision
To inspire y'all to be different, who's responsibility is it?
Back then I was a nothing, what you are on my bump,
Fall high off that low, but the gas never low.
I think I'm about to go ghost, ain't nobody see me,
I'm riding round in my locks, leave me
You can hear the bass beating like
Coming through the speakers likeI think I'm about to go ghost, ain't nobody see me,
See through the floor, be me,
And you can hear the bass beating like
Coming through the speakers like.I think I'm about to go ghost, riding round in my locks
For the sanchees and all, black, I barely see the road.
I ride for my niggers and I ride out for my folks,
I know navigation, gotta stick to the code.
Say one you get on you, forget where you came from,
I never changed, stay the same to the grave.
Coming through your speakers,
They talking about me, can't understand what they're speaking.
Think I'm about to get low, trying rock and roll
And my eyes look like rotts, hand out the window.
One hand on the road, me on the wheel,
With my foot on the pedal just tryin to keep it real.
I think I'm about to go ghost, ain't nobody see me,
I'm riding round in my locks, leave me
You can hear the bass beating like
Coming through the speakers likeI think I'm about to go ghost, ain't nobody see me,
See through the floor, be me,
And you can hear the bass beating like
Coming through the speakers like.I think I'm about to go ghost,

Riding around in my locks,
Coming through your speakers like
