Beautiful Nightmare

Deep Blue Something

And it's something and she knows, and she knows
That it's nothing to cry about
And I'm walking through halls and through walls
And she's changing everyday
And she's a beautiful nightmare
Who will know what she'll wear this year
And I'm walking on thin air
Won't you show me the way out of here?
And she's thinking where to go and she goes
And she's breaking all of my falls
And she's laughing at all of her own jokes
And I'm sleeping and she's still awake
And she's a beautiful nightmare
Who will know what to wear this year
And I'm walking on thin air, yeah
Won't you show me the way out of here?
And I'm not the one
To tell her what she's doing wrong

And I'm not the one
She's a beautiful nightmare
Who will know what she'll wear this year
And I'm walking on thin air, yeah
Won't you show me the way out of here?
And she's a beautiful nightmare
That I've been dreaming about for years
And I'm walking through mine-fields
Won't you show me a way out of here?
And I'm walking on thin air
Well she knows, she knows
And I'm walking on thin air
Well she knows, she knows
And I'm walking on thin air
Well she knows, she knows
And I'm walking on thin air
Well she knows, she knows
