

The Cure

Cervello

There's a cure to bury your name
There's a door that leads out of these chains
There's a road to take me away
So they say but I stay and I fail

Cause it's the way you are, the way you see, the way you breathe, the way you feel
The way you smile, taste of your tears, the way you whisper things in my ear

In my dreams I have all that you need and it seems 'everything is so real I wake up and you are not there with no hope of a way to repair

Since that day when you went away and the words that I couldn't say
I am down on my knees as I pray
Can't let go, not that day, not today

Cause it's the way you are, the way you see, the way you breathe, the way you feel
The way you smile, taste of your tears, the way you whisper things in my ear

Lyrics submitted by Don Johnson.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>