Sound The Alarm

Howie Day

Well I don't know if I can last
When I come and rescue you
And I don't know if my past
Is enough, for me anymoreSo I can take it as a test
I will see when night gets old
And I'd change it, if I could
But something's wrong
It's understoodAnd sometimes I miss you
I know that you'll make it
All too real now
I wish it was fakeSound the alarm
I know we'll make it right, alright
I Know this night
Is your night
That's rightWell I don't know if I could turn
Every bridge that I have burned
To overcome the sense of loss
You gained so much, at such a costAnd sometimes I miss you
I know that you'll make it
All too real now
I wish it was fakeSound the alarm
I know we'll make it right, alright
I know this night
Is all right
That's rightAnd sometimes I miss you
I know that you'll make it
All too real now
I wish it was fakeSound the alarm
I know we'll make it right, alright
And I know tonight
Is all right
Right, all right
We'll be all right
Right, all right
We'll be all right
Gonna be all right
All right
Tonight
