A Defeated Accomplishment

So They Say

I can hear the whispers through the doorway
Shocking scheme, I can't believe my ears
So I will take a stab at liberty slowly
No one can say a proper way fidelityJust like the American Dream
I will die right in front of your eyes
We are the ones that stood right here
Where the weak would cry in fear
We are the fallen tears on loving handsNow it's just a matter of time
Before I walk right into a another fight
Saying, baby, don't you cry
I'll be alright, well, be alrightWe're tired now, we're going down
We're tired now, we're going down
We're tired now, we're going down
We're tired now, we're going downWe are the ones that stood right here
Where the weak would cry in fear
We are the fallen tears on loving hands
(On loving hands)We are the ones that stood right here
Where the weak would cry in fear
We are the fallen tears on loving hands
(On loving hands)We kill for you, and I knew
You sat at the head of every table
We kill for you, and I knew
We believed in a new worldA defeated accomplishment
But you dream of a place with no water
That's what you should expect
We knew that you came from the devilWe are the ones that stood right here
Where the weak would cry in fear
We are the fallen tears on loving hands
(On loving hands)We are the ones that stood right here
Where the weak would cry in fear
We are the fallen tears on loving hands
(On loving hands)
