The Obsidian Conspiracy

Nevermore

Blank, in your selfish state
And enraged
Never should one die
That cannot decide the truth
Never should one cry
So suffer the childrenThe snakes arrive to assist us
Around the stage
Black expressions
Its forced of rageCreate, and deny
Your subversive winnings
The obsidian conspiracy is rising
Justify your shame
The obsidian conspiracy is risingRegardless of the consequence
We drown inside our arrogance
We chose to bring our nameless
To this place so shamelessNever should one die
To never conceit absolute
Never should one cry
And nothing destroy themThe blades align in different
To feed the plague
This black agenda of hate
Is born of painCreate, and deny
Your subversive winnings
The obsidian conspiracy is rising
Justify your shame
The obsidian conspiracy is risingThe coming waves in silent rage
We'll storm the sea of glass
And in its wake all the birds remainNever should one die
That cannot decide the truth
Never should one cry
So suffer the childrenCreate, and deny
Your subversive winnings
The obsidian conspiracy is rising
Justify your shame
The obsidian conspiracy is risingThe drowning sage
Can feel the silence
The firestorm can never be heard
These are my last words
