

Reconsider

TEEN

What a careful contradiction
What a meaningful rejection
It's so tempting to reflect on
An obsessive conversation
With myself, myself, with myselfHe so easily made me feel like
I could disappear in the night
And his love wouldn't skip a single beat
But no longer would it be for meNo longer with me, oh oh
No longer with me
No longer with me, oh oh
No longer with me
Why is it such a popular notion
To believe that you are no one
To feel sorry for where you've been
Now why can't I just blame him?
Why can't I just blame him?
(Maybe I should reconsider this)
Why can't I just blame him?
(Maybe I should reconsider him)
Why can't I just blame him?
(Maybe I should reconsider this)
