Up and Down

Hard Target

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I got everything I need in life I know it seems so right, but still I want more and everynight I go to sleep I pray, I don't leave today there's so much in store but the littlest things have gotten to me you pickin' me up, then knock me off of my feet what goes up, must come down I guess what goes up, must come downhey, I got everything I need, but still I want more I want what I can't have, what I probably can't afford got a roof on my family, I ain't suffering myself you think you have it all but deep down there's something else all my bills paid, but then there's times i'm getting worried all these dreams that I have that my mind could never bury the day you want to quit, is the day you see it work but the day the pain leaves, it'll probably re-occur my nephew got locked up, and my niece passed a grade my sister had a baby, but my homie passed away a love that's mass produced for the love you can't replace you wait for your release from a place you can't escape times are getting harder, frozen softly in the moment it's getting out of hand just when you thought you controlled it you kept the door shut, when you promised it would open now i'm on the other side, contemplating and I'm knowingI got everything I need in life
I know it seems so right, but still I want more
and everynight I go to sleep I pray, I don't leave today
you pickin' me up, then knock me off of my feet
I guess what goes up, must come downI guess what goes up, must come down the stuff we say today, must come 'round I had everything, but everything was not enough you pushed me to the ground but today I've gotten up to you it's just black and white, hungry with no appetite this was left, and past was right this is where we're at tonight see, I could lie but the truth sounds sweeter hot and cold, but around you there's neither? she was a good girl, but bad as can be living in a cruel world, she had to believe she's freefalling on a beat, another song that's on repeat I'm as calm as I can be, standing tall as I can see I see on the horizon there's a storm approaching me while I'm remaining silent, I find the time butI got everything I need in life

you pickin' me up, then knock me off of my feet
I guess what goes up, must come downlightswitch on, lightswitch off hope you get the point cause I probably drift off you get what you get, Karma is a bitch nothing seems surprising, alarming as it is you reaching for the hate cause you never felt the love gangsters selling books cause the priest is selling drugs a man would never crawl, and I was standing tall advance at everything, but some things you can't resolve so you can have it allI got everything I need in life
you pickin' me up, then knock me off of my feet
I guess what goes up, must come downI got everything I need in life I know it seems so right, but still I want more
you pickin' me up, then knock me off of my feet
I guess what goes up, must come down
