Close to Home

Babel Fish

I swear on my life
I really do care
Don't know where we going
But I can't wait to get there
I've been the lost boy
In search of his mom
The sky still is cloudy
But you made the sea look calmAnd now I can feel the ground under my feet
Now I can taste both the bitter and sweet
Now that I feel the ground
I'm close to homeBut you look so small
When you try to smile
Uncertainty grabs you
And holds on for quite awhile
You beg me to stay
Like I could let go
I can't hold you long enough
I try to let you know'cause now I can feel the ground...You're a new horizon
You have made me realize
I can touch the ceiling
I see hope instead of lies
Although it's not easy
I will never shut my eyes
I won't shut my eyes'cause now I can feel the ground...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/