Found Another Way

Thornley

How could you show me that life's worth living
I'll never live it with you
And every time there's a gift worth giving
You won't let me give it to you
When everything was right
Now everything seems wrong
The last words spoken
I found another way
I found another way
I found another way
And I want you notice
Empty houses are full of promise
So many things you can do
And every time that the phone starts ringing
I can't help but think that it's you
When everything was right
Now everything seems wrong
The last words spoken
I found another way
I found another way
I found another way
And I want you notice
I found another way
I found another way
I found another way
When everything was right
Now everything seems wrong
The last words spoken
I found another way
I found another way
I found another way
And I want you notice
I found another way
I found another way
I found another way
And I want you notice
