Stay

Tonya Mitchell

I've must have been blind
Not to see you look away from me
Whenever you'd say you love me still
I must have been crazy
Not to feel you slip away from me
And day after day there's a space to fillAnd I can't find the words
To make you fall in love with me again
And I can't find the strength
To let you goAnd when it's all said and done, you'll be the only one
Even when there's nothing left for us to say
As sure as the sun will rise, I can never say goodbye
Even when we've gone our separate ways
In my heart you'll always stayBeen spending my time
Trying to remind you of our love
But you're pulling away with every touch
With all we've been through
I'd never thought I'd be losing you
And I would give everything to keep you hereBut I can't find the words
To make you fall in love with me again
And I can't find the strength
To let you goAnd when it's all said and done, you'll be the only one
Even when there's nothing left for us to say
As sure as the sun will rise, I'll never say goodbye
Even when we've gone our separate ways
In my heart you'll always stayI still believe our love is meant to be
And it will be here forever, come one day
Oh, can you see, I love you faithfully
And one day [Incomprehensible] back to meAnd when it's all said and done, you'll be the only one
As sure as the sun will rise, I can never say goodbye
Even when we've gone our separate ways
In my heart you'll always stay
