The Way.

Clay Aiken

There's something about the way you look tonight

There's something about the way that

I can't take my eyes off youThere's something about the way your lips invite

Maybe it's the way that

I get nervous when you're around

And I want you to be mine

And if you need a reason whyIt's in the way that you move me

And the way that you tease me

The way that I want you tonightIt's in the way that you hold me

And the way that you know me

When I can't find the right words to say

You feel it in the way, oh you feel it in the wayIt's something about how you stay on my mind It's something about the way that

I whisper your name when I'm asleep, oh girlMaybe it's the look you get in your eyes

Oh baby it's the way that

Makes me feel to see you smile

And the reasons they may change

But what I'm feeling stays the sameIt's in the way that you move me

And the way that you tease me

The way that I want you tonightIt's in the way that you hold me

And the way that you know me

When I can't find the right words to say

You feel it in the way, oh you feel it in the wayI can't put my fingers on

Just what it is that makes me love you, you baby

So don't ask me to describe, I get all choked up inside

Just thinking 'bout the wayIt's in the way that you move me

And the way that you tease me

The way that I want you tonightIt's in the way that you hold me

And the way that you know me

When I can't find the right words to say

You feel itIt's in the way that you move me

And the way that you tease me

The way you feel it in the wayIt's something about the way you look tonight

There is nothing more to say than

I feel it in the way
