Another Day

Fastway

Here all alone again, you say you want your freedom
And now I fly to where the winds callin' me, winds callin' me
Remember when we had the good times, the good times
Take me away to another, take me away to another
Take me away to another dayEvery time I fly I got to please my mind
I have to know just what you're doing
You can never cry on the wings of life
No matter how or what they sayNeed somebody gonna hold my hand
Now every time I've been down, every time I've been down
You called but I could hear them pray
You don't want it but you can't find a way
And you can't hold on, hold on for another day, it's another dayPlease believe me there are crimes and lies to why they say I can't fly
Now I see all the pain with knives, see no fear in what they do
Don't be sad, always be glad and let your love just find its path
Through misty greens no eyes have seen, to man it's all the sameNeed somebody gonna hold my hand
Now every time I've been down, every time I've been down
You called but I could hear them pray
You don't want it but you can't find a way
And you can't hold on, hold on for another day, it's another day
It's another day, it's another day, it's another day
It's another day, it's another day, it's another day, it's another dayCastle walls are closing in on the man who would be king
See his men as they charge through life, never know to where they lie
Don't be sad, always be glad and let your love just find its path
Through seven seas of life's own leaves that fall from empty skiesNeed somebody gonna hold my hand
Now every time I've been down, every time I've been down
You called but I could hear them pray
You don't want it but you can't find a way
And you can't hold on, hold on for another day, it's another day
You don't want it but you can't find a way
And you can't hold on, hold on for another day
