Keep Us

Peter Bradley Adams

When the rain set in we had nowhere left to go so we just stayed in bed while the thunder rolled there's a comfort in the rain, one that lovers only know so we lay hand in hand while the water rose ...Every season will turn til the world is upside down rivers overflow then go underground but in the eye of the storm, in the safety of this house we lay hand in hand while the world turns around.So keep us and keep us, keep us from the storm.There's a lesson in the rain, that change will always come let us ride this wave and then greet the sun and though the ground may shake and well think weve had enough we must raise our flags for the ones we love.So keep us and keep us, keep us from the storm.
Keep us and keep us and keep us from the storm.
