Just Begin Again

Spinal Tap

When the game has just been lost
When the race has all been run
When the storm has left your ship well tossed
Ignore the coast
Get your stars uncrossed
Back at Square OneJust begin again
You can always find a way
Just begin again
No matter what they say
Life is just a wheel
If it's even real
You can rest another day
Life is just a meal
And you never say when
Just begin againPeople say enough is enough
An' people say you can't undo what's done
People say the road is, just too rough
But what do they know?
Life is just a show, go reload your gun
Just begin againJust begin again
Make the bastards eat their words
Just begin again
Like bumblebees and hummingbirds
Life is just a dream
An unconscious stream
A picture, worth five hundred words
Rise for you are cream
And you can have the strength of ten
Mmm don't hope to win
Losing is no sin
So just dig it in
Just begin again
Begin again
Begin again
