Broken

Angela Ammons

You, you're everything I know
I'm happy when I'm sad
Through all the times we shared
I never felt alone
Now I still can smell your skin
I still can taste your kiss
And that I'll always miss
And everything we've ever been
Now I'm broken without you
I'm broken, broken without you
I'm broken, broken without you
I cannot fall asleep
Lying in my bed
Spinning in my head
Thinking how it used to be
Now I'm broken without you
I'm broken, broken without you
I'm broken, broken without you
I'm sick of crying, it's all I do
Been counting days to just get through
I'm trying to be strong
But it's just no use
I'm broken over you
I'm broken, broken without you
I'm broken, broken without you
You, you're everything I know
I still can taste your kiss
And I'll always miss
Everything you've ever been
And I'm broken without you
