

Midnight Mirage

Jennifer Rush

Moving fast through this
Moonlight highway, I
See your face in the
Blue of the dashboard lights
Gonna see you tonight Constant miles running
'Neath my wheels, I see
All those headlights
And billboards rushing out of sight
Gonna be with you tonight And the radio's playing some song
And I suddenly realize
That's the song they were playing
The very first time that I looked
Into your eyes, singing You are so beautiful tonight
My midnight mirage
I'll make you real
I'll hold you tight
My midnight mirage
I'll be safe in your arms
In a little while All this
Time and distance and
Rhyme and reason made
My decision, oh
How you make me feel
Oh, you make me feel so real Almost feels like you're
Here beside me instead
Of some place
Some place I could never find
I'm bound to find it this time And the radio station is lost
In the distance so far behind
But the song they were playing
Still echos around and around
In my mind, singing You are so beautiful tonight
My midnight mirage
I'll make you real
I'll hold you tight
My midnight mirage
I'll be safe in your arms
In a little while Moving fast through this
Moonlight highway

Got ten more, nine more, eight more miles
Away from you
All of my life with you You are so beautiful tonight
My midnight mirage
I'll make you real
I'll hold you tight
My midnight mirage
Ooh, tonight You are so beautiful tonight
Tonight
