Turn It Around

Stevie McCrorie

In the jungle and I don't wanna miss that train.
I don't wanna be alone,
I'm tired of being on my own.
So many faces, are they ever gonna know my name?
Feeling all the highs and lows,
Constantly taking blows.
But I'll stay,
cause I don't wanna let you down,
I don't wanna let you down,
I can still turn it around.
I'll remain,
cause I don't wanna let you down,
I'll build it up from the ground,
we can still turn it around.
We can still turn it around...
We can still turn it around...
We can still turn it around.
Same noise, same city but a different view.
Staring out into the ground,
feeling like a stowaway.
Your photograph gives light to an empty room,
When my head stop swimming away,
you keep me sane.
So I'll stay,
cause I don't wanna let you down,
I don't wanna let you down,
I can still turn it around.
And I'll remain,
cause I don't wanna let you down,
I'll build it up from the ground,
we can still turn it around.
It try to swallow me whole,
but I know it won't,
cause I will not break, break
and try to bring me deeper and deeper,
but it won't
cause I will not break.
So I stay, cause I don't wanna let you down,
I don't wanna let you down,

I can still turn it around.
And I'll remain,
cause I don't wanna let you down,
I build it up from the ground,
we can still turn it around.
We can still turn it around...
We can still turn it around...
We can still turn it around.
We can still turn it around...
We can still turn it around...
We can still turn it around.
We can still turn it around...
We can still turn it around...
We can still turn it around.
