

Tower Of Snakes

Eighteen Visions

You told me no apologies, but I'm sorry
It couldn't cut the mustard and it's absurd
Hey, you turned the light off, you gave me darkness
You sucked the blood right out of lifeAre you running away from me?
Are you running away from me?
Are you running away from you?
Are you running away from you?Are you running?
You showed me what I should see, but I'm still blind and I can't breathe
You swallowed pride like someone died
You chewed it up and spit it out but no one's to be found now
Are you running away from me?Are you running away from you?
Are you running away from you?
Are you running?
Hey, what are you running away from?
