You Lied

Face to Face

There's nothing here inside of these walls
I feel like I am so far away, nothing is changed
And I just can't be who I'm supposed to beI let the past control my life
It brings me to my knees
And I cannot hide, I cannot lieSo many words to say and no one to hear
Why did you go away?
I needed you more today than I ever did
You lied to meOutside it's cold
It chills to the bone
I wish that I did not have to seeI let the past control my life
It brings me to my knees
And I cannot hide, I cannot lieSo many words to say and no one to hear
Why did you go away?
I needed you more today than I ever did
You lied to me
